FLAG FACTS

Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the American flag on June 14, 1777.

The colors of the flag have important meanings. Red symbolizes hardiness and valor, white symbolizes purity and innocence, and blue represents vigilance, perseverance and justice.

In July 1969, Neil Armstrong placed the first U.S. flag on the moon, as part of the Apollo 11 mission, the first manned landing. Five more Apollo moon landings—from missions 12, 14, 15, 16, and 17—resulted in five more flags being planted on the surface of the moon.

Flag Day, which celebrates the anniversary of the Flag Resolution of 1777, was established by the Proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson on May 30th, 1916, after years of local celebrations. On August 3, 1949, President Truman signed an Act of Congress that designated June 14 of each year as National Flag Day.

FIRMLY ROOTED

Therefore, as you have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in Him, having been firmly rooted and now being built up in Him and established in your faith, just as you were instructed, and overflowing with gratitude. Colossians 2:6-7 (NASB)

Spring has sprung in Alaska! This is the time of year when Alaskans get out of the house and check out the debris in the yard that months of cold and ice have kept mostly hidden from view. The task now is to clean it up and plant fresh flowers. In looking at some perceivably dead bushes in my yard, I thought I would just uproot them and plant something new in that spot. After giving one a solid jerk with my hands, my back screamed "NO!" There was no give in these bushes. Not only were they alive, but they were firmly rooted in the soil. I left them in place and soon noticed the green buds of leaves beginning to appear. Signs of life!

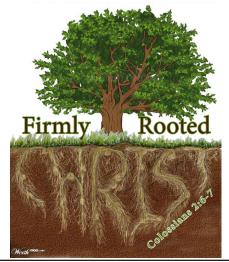

A good horticulturist can tell you that the life of any plant begins with the roots. They capture the water along with the nutrients in the soil to give nourishment and strength to the plant. Even when a plant is cut off near the ground, the roots can produce new shoots that will again grow into a healthy plant.

Today, many are interested in tracing their family roots. Learning about one's ancestry and family members they have never met has become an obsession. The descendants of a family whose roots are in another country or unique culture are seeking insight to their heritage and what type of fruit was borne of the tree. The roots often give evidence of the constancy of the tree. The prophet Isaiah described the coming Messiah as the Root of Jesse. This reference is not only to the heritage from which Christ was born, but also has futuristic significance. As the root that provides the fruit of salvation for all, past, present, and future, it is still vibrant and giving life to those who have been grafted to the root. In Revelation 22:16, Jesus says, "I have sent My angel to testify to you of these things for the churches. I am the root and the descendant of David, the bright and morning star."

That is the imagery Paul uses in the letter to the Colossians. There is no Scriptural evidence that would suggest Paul ever visited the church in Colossae. We know from other Pauline epistles that he was closely associated with Epaphras, the founder of the church and Philemon to whom he wrote a personal letter. Paul is writing to fellow saints in Christ with whom he identifies as faithful brothers and sisters (shoots of the same root) in Christ. He is addressing a heresy or false teaching in the church. He reminds them to remain firmly rooted and built up in Christ.

As Alaska Baptists, we have been planted in Christ through the gift of salvation. We have also been planted in a beautiful place to bear fruit for the Kingdom. That will require the same from us as it did the Colossians: "... if indeed you remain grounded and steadfast in the faith and are not shifted away from the hope of the gospel that you heard." Colossians 1:23a (CSB) Let's be FIRMLY ROOTED!

Harvest Time

Here are some inspiring quotes from a recent Christian Index article. It is the Georgia Baptist State paper and here are some snippets from a recent post.

• More than 40 people made professions of faith in the small Georgia town of Millen in April a joint revival held in the town's Pal Theater.

• The Millen revival came the same week as one at Pineland Baptist Church in Thomasville where 19 people made salvation decisions.

• In late March, 102 Columbus residents claimed Christ in an one-day evangelistic outreach in one of Georgia's toughest neighborhoods, one that had become known as Little Chicago because of its high crime rate.

• And in Sylvester, Ga., more than 100 people made professions of faith during an evangelistic outreach sponsored by a group of area churches.

• In Moultrie, Kingwood Baptist Church Pastor Matt Greene reported 30 salvation decisions during a four-day revival in early February. That's in a church with average Sunday attendance of about 80 people.

• Revival seemed to accelerate with hundreds of Georgians making salvation decisions over the Easter weekend. Cascade Hills Baptist Church in Columbus recorded 187 salvation decisions that weekend. Peavine Baptist Church in Rock Spring reported 111 new believers during Easter; Bethlehem Church, 65 salvation decisions; First Baptist Church of Villa Rica, 60; Britt David Baptist Church in Columbus, 32; and Midway Church of Villa Rica, 20.

(From an article entitled "Georgia church bursting at the seams as revival spreads" from the May 12, 2022 edition)

Hearing that churches are having these results in recent days is exciting.

I love hearing about God's people sharing the Good News and that people today still respond. In Alaska, we have a number of churches sharing Good News in a variety of ways this summer. I am looking forward to hearing the reports and getting feedback on their attempts to evangelize.

One thing was common in each church or activity that led to people accepting Christ. Each event or activity was a revival or an outreach event. The event, meeting or activity included the gospel being shared. The gospel was shared and a response was solicited. There was a clear presentation of the gospel with a clear invitation to receive the message and follow Christ as Lord and Savior. God wants us to be fervent, consistent, bold and never ashamed of the gospel. Sometimes it takes extra effort, planning, prayer, preparation and involvement. When I hear about churches that do it and see results, it is a blessing.

Have you ever wondered, why do churches not experience results after doing the work of evangelism? The answer can be complicated. We have to remember there are phases to reaping a harvest. Preparation, tilling, time, and cultivation are all part of the process that ultimately leads to harvest. In spiritual work, there is much to consider as to the readiness of the harvest that affects the work. Different cultures, races, demographics and locations all have unique characteristics that impact the ultimate harvest. We who live in Alaska know we are not in the Bible belt. There is even resistance to our work here that is not like other places.

The harvest is not reaped without work. We must not grow weary. We must not stop planning. We must plan to do the work of evangelism that leads to harvest. If the yield from our labors grows less, we have to evaluate why things are not having the same result. We learn, we grow, we adjust and we continue.

We also have to ask, whether it is personal evangelism, event or a weekly service, is the gospel presented while asking people to respond? Some churches give a good invitation. Some churches do not. If we do some type of activity and there is no gospel presentation with an appeal to respond, people won't respond. We have to be clear to present and seek to reap the harvest.

I want to encourage you not to grow weary. Look at the white fields before us. I want to encourage you to be faithful to present and to seek to reap the harvest. I am available to talk with churches about opportunities and possible resources to help you do the work of evangelism. I am praying for our churches and our leaders as we work diligently. Call me if I can help.

Death doesn't stop persecuted churches from multiplying in South Asia

By Sue Sprenkle

It's the stuff inspirational movies are made of, but this is the real-life story of a man and his lasting influence in his South Asian village. Kahan went from practicing Hinduism to testifying for Jesus.

Then, this is where the plot thickens: he's murdered.

Allegedly, the death was an attempt to keep Kahan quiet about Jesus' saving grace, Christian worker Morgan Rawlings confirmed. The South Asian planned to share his testimony before the entire village.

Persecution of Christians in South Asia is nothing new. This region of the world has every one of its countries on the World Watch List's "Top 50 persecuted countries." What makes Kahan's story so different is that from the very beginning, it was never about him. It was about inspiring an entire community of believers to faithfully follow Jesus one step at a time.

The first time Kahan stepped foot in a house church, his neighbors carried him inside. He hadn't walked in four months. When "poisoning people's minds and changing their religion." The man was angry because Kahan wouldn't stop sharing his testimony and people kept putting their faith in Jesus.

Kahan's work didn't stop at his death. He passed his passion for sharing the good news to other believers in this area. Advised that they should stop until it was safer, one believer reminded others that they must bear their cross and "die to follow Jesus."

"I will not stop telling people about Jesus," the young woman said. "If the day comes that I do not come back home, ... don't worry about me. I will be with Jesus."

Five groups now meet because of Kahan's testimony and proclamation. He led more than 100 to a saving faith and spent his last hours training others to share their testimony. Kahan's death did not crumble their faith, Rawlings pointed out.

"It has made their backs straighten and the church is rising," she added.

In fact, a new church started in the home of another who he heard the gospel, he knew it was true and gave his life to Jesus on the spot. Four members of the church prayed for Kahan and asked for his leg to be healed. The brand-new believer had heard of other people being healed, so he asked if it really worked.

The church leader shrugged and said, "We don't know. It's God's work." The believers understood that God is powerful and can certainly choose to heal.

another meeting and called back to this house to see if someone took Kahan home. The believers casually said he walked home.

"What touched our hearts most was...the nonchalant way in telling how this man got up and walked 2.5 miles home [after not walking for four months]," Rawlings said. They live expecting to see mighty works done in Jesus' name.

Kahan soon hit the dirt paths, going to all the homes in his village telling them about Jesus. In another village, he shared his testimony and helped show a movie about Jesus to 135 people, with 80 praying to receive Jesus. Kahan couldn't hide his joy and excitement in talking about his Jesus with everyone he met. He started a church in his home and hosted discipleship trainings. He walked miles every week, sharing the gospel, despite the heavy Hindu influence in the area.

While running an errand, Kahan was killed with a blow to the head. The suspect confessed to doing it because Kahan was "Will this work?" Shikhar received the same answer.

As the couple waded back across the waist-deep water to return home, Shikhar felt the fever leave. He turned to his wife and said they "no longer needed to wade across the water to Kahan's home." He was ready to start a church in their own home. They now host church services and outreach events.

"Shikhar is the same hot coal Kahan was," Rawlings said. "He baptized three people just this week."

Join the Rawlings in praying that this village will burn brightly with the holy witness of God's faithfulness to His persecuted church.

SEXUAL ABUSE TASK FORCE REPORT ALASKA BAPTISTS RESPONSE

Alaska Baptists grieve the existence of sexual abuse in any setting, but especially when it occurs in the context of the church. We affirm that sexual abuse must not be tolerated in any form, and every measure available should be utilized to prevent individuals from abusing those who are vulnerable. We offer our deepest concerns and prayers for those who have experienced abuse of any sort, and are committed to ministering with Christ's love to the needs of these individuals.

It is extremely heartbreaking to receive the Guidepost Solutions report. We are thankful that Southern Baptists have taken action to expose and deal with abuse that has occurred within our denomination. Now is the time for deep lamentation and sincere repentance for all Southern Baptists. We, as Alaska Baptists, have been and continue to be committed to giving this issue the attention it demands as we support the work of our churches in taking the gospel to a lost and hurting world.
