As many of you know, I enjoy trivia and unusual facts. For example, in 2011, we have some unique dates: 1/1/11, 1/11/11, 11/1/11 and 11/11/11. This won't happen again in my lifetime!

Are you aware that as Alaska Baptists, we have another unique occasion in March? We have the opportunity to support the Annie Armstrong Mission Offering for North American Missions. This offering is an avenue by which we can encourage and support the work of the Lord across North America. One unique factor is that 100% of the funds received are used directly for missionaries and ministries -- none is used for administrative or other costs. This is made possible because of your congregation's mission giving through the Cooperative Program.

The Annie Armstrong Mission Offering for North American Missions is used to assist with:

- The salaries of our current jointly-appointed Alaska Baptist Convention/North American Mission Board missionaries: Gary Bearce, Joe Boney, Brenda Crim, Alan Dial, John Forrester, David George, Linda Hokit, Mike Purple, Don Shannon, Jimmy Stewart, Butch Strickland and Paul Wells
- The funding of various youth activities such as T3 and Youth Evangelism Conference
- Summer camps: Orton Ranch (Southeast Alaska), Camp Baldwin (the Interior) and LaVerne Griffin Youth Recreation Camp (Southcentral)
- Supplementing the salaries of 13 mission pastors
- Providing resources to assist with strengthening and starting congregations
- The annual State Evangelism Conference, Ministers and Spouses Retreat and the Alaska Baptist Convention annual meeting

All of this is unique because no other denomination has the Annie Armstrong Offering for North American Missions. We can rejoice in God's blessings through this offering and plan on supporting it, as a way to undergird and support what God is doing in our State.

One last thought on being unique: take the age you will be the end of 2011, add the last two digits of the year you were born and see what your total is. Blessings!

Jimmy Stewart Director of Evangelism, Prayer and Collegiate Ministries

The State Evangelism Conference was a blessing in many ways. It is always a wonderful experience to see our leaders worshiping together. The breakout conferences were very helpful and the featured speakers spoke to our hearts. I have to confess I have many "acquaintances" but not many "relationships." When I play racquetball I have a great opportunity to speak with those not associated with any church. It is always a challenge to get past the surface issues and into deeper issues. So far, all of my invitations to small groups and church have been met with kind refusals, but there have been great opportunities to minister and share in the midst of tournaments and general play. I consider the racquetball court to be one of my mission fields and a great place to lay the foundation for potential disciple-making opportunities. Pray for me as I seek to let others know about my walk and life in Christ.

Where is your mission field? Where do you purpose to be a light in the darkness? Where do you hang out with those who need to hear about Christ? The Great Commission is about making disciples as we go through this life. That doesn't mean a person has to come to church first to become a disciple. Jesus did much of His disciple-making along the road of life. He went into homes, sat in the marketplace, taught and talked with people doing ordinary things. Relationships help us gain the "right" to share our lives and journeys of faith with those around us. Isn't it amazing how busy people can become? There is always more to do than we have time. Family, work and chores take an incredible amount of our time. Add all the other activities, events, sports, trips and recreation and each day is over before we know it. We may think people are not interested in Christ, but they may just be consumed with life's activities. Have you ever asked someone about their need for Christ and they didn't seem to see a need? My prayer for most of my relationships outside of church is that Christ will break through and get their attention. I pray I might be the one who starts a conversation that leads to opening a closed mind to a relationship with Christ.

Don't forget the youth evangelism conference, Avalanche, occurs this month. The theme is "Connect" and Jeff Wallace, youth pastor at Peace Baptist Church in Decatur, Georgia, will talk about connecting with youth who need Christ. His urban church, although predominantly African American, is reaching youth across cultural and ethnic boundaries. Jeff is a powerful speaker and is leading his youth to be missional and committed to Christ. We will also hear from Paul Turner, lead student ministry specialist from Lifeway Christian Resources. Paul has an incredible ministry to leaders of youth and students. His deep relationship with Christ shines through his presentation and I know our youth leaders are going to be encouraged to return to their churches and pour their lives into their youth and families. A team from California Baptist University will provide music and leaders for our discussion groups. We will also have "Minute to Win It" games and competition. Encourage your youth to attend.

ABC Executive Board Action Summary

Don Shannon Director of Ministries and Mission Education

Emerson once said there is no fear like the fear of being known. Being found out for what we really are is a terrifying experience because underneath our veneered smiles and social polish we each hide a fiberboard heart, full of splinters and sawdust. Rough, unattractive, cheap.

Peel back the thin façade and look into your heart. Go back into your past, into the darkest time in your life, to that act of which you are most ashamed. Stare at it for a moment. Your face may begin to flush. Your heartbeat may begin to race. But keep staring. Now imagine that what you're looking at makes the headlines of the newspaper, or the lead story on the nightly news. Or worse still, the cover story for "60 Minutes"! Frightening thought, isn't it?

On numerous occasions God set in print the inky sins of His people for millions to see like Abraham's lie, Noah's drunkenness and indecent exposure. We read of Moses' rage that left an Egyptian dead and Achan's thievery. The sexual scandals of David, Samson, Amnon, and Gomer as well as the stubborn defiance of Jonah are recorded forever in the Bible.

With those thoughts in mind let's take a look at the darkest moment in Peter's life. We can feel his humiliation. We can realize that each of us has a "Peter's denial" hidden somewhere in our past. Peter was known as "the rock." He was the Gibraltar among the disciples; yet, the rock was not without its cracks. There are a couple of principles that emerge from Peter's denial that speak loudly today.

No one – not even a spiritual rock – is immune to failure. Often, in fact, the rocks are the most vulnerable, according to 1 Corinthians 10:12. "Therefore let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall." The second principle is this: God knows our precise breaking point. Psalm 103 emphasizes that the Lord "Himself knows our frame." And He knows the stress points on that frame. He knows which parts are subject to fatigue, which can be bent, and which can be broken.

In Peter's case, God knew exactly when that would occur and under what circumstances. There's a "cock-crow" in all of our lives – a definite time when we can withstand it no longer; and the Lord wants each of us to be aware of our weak points. The first step toward correction is not to act like we are strong but to admit we are weak. For "in our weakness He is made strong." The second step is, rather than living overwhelmed by the darkness of the past failures, "I pray that out of His glorious riches He may strengthen you with power through His spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith." (Ephesians 3:16-17)

We don't have to live in fear, but by faith in Jesus Christ, we are forgiven to live victoriously.
