Your Cooperative Program giving impacts Alaska churches....

First Baptist Church Eagle River

I want to thank Mike Procter and his staff at the Alaska Baptist Convention for the opportunity to share with other Alaska pastors and churches the blessings of the Cooperative Program (CP). As I reflect on my 30 plus years of being a Christian and 15 years in the pastorate, I have observed how mission work is accomplished by various denominations and I have come to greatly appreciate how Southern Baptist churches agree to cooperate in missions.

The vast majority of churches today cannot afford to keep even one missionary on the field full-time. Through our CP giving, First Baptist Church-Eagle River helps the 5,000 missionaries on the field full-time. These missionaries are in Alaska and around the world. Because of this joint funding we have relationships with missionaries

Pastor Todd and Kathy Burgess

Amanda Dillon, Amanda C., Alan Dial, Butch Strickland, John Forrester and others who have surrendered their lives to God's work in some very difficult situations. It is also important to note that 97 cents of every dollar goes to mission work. No other organization in the world can make that claim.

The relationships we have with these missionaries keep missions alive and real in our church. It is a sad day for the church when God's mission work turns into just a monthly check. We must stay personally involved with the missionaries God has placed upon our hearts to support. When they are experiencing growth and joy, we are able to share that with them, but we must also weep when they weep because of hurts that so often accompany God's servants. That level of support is not accomplished through a check, but by personal involvement, and this is what the CP affords churches like ours

Complete the 2012 SBC Church Compensation Survey today!

Sponsored by your Baptist state convention, GuideStone Financial Resources and LifeWay Christian Resources, the 2012 survey is again online. In 2010 about 12,000 church employees participated, and we're counting on you to make this year's survey a success.

- The survey takes less than 10 minutes to complete.
- Your individual results are kept anonymous: results are reported in aggregate at the state or national level for churches of similar size and budget.

For almost two decades, the SBC Church Compensation Survey's results have been used by church finance and personnel committees to establish competitive compensation packages for ministers and support staff. Your participation will help make this year's survey the most complete yet. Ministers, secretaries and maintenance/custodial staff are invited to participate.

Visit www.GuideStone.org/CompensationSurvey by May 31 to take the online survey.

Mike Procter Executive Director

January 2012 is over; the first month of the new year, with all of its promises, is done. How are you doing with your new year resolutions? To date, I have been able to keep mine: eat more, exercise less, watch more television and gain 20 pounds. I am just kidding! I worked too hard to lose the 20 pounds I did in 2011 and I do not want to gain it back.

With 2012 still in its infancy, how do you anticipate the Lord will work in your life? What would you like to see Him do? Are you prepared to make the commitment for Him to exercise full control of your life--"to be the Lord of your life"? In order for Him to be Lord, you must be totally committed to Him and His will for you.

As he realized his time on earth was coming to an end, the apostle Paul wrote, "for I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing." (2 Timothy 4:6-8)

Notice in this passage Paul states three truths we should be able to claim in our walk with the Lord:

- 1. He mentions a victorious past "...I have fought a good fight...I have finished my course...I have kept the faith..."
- 2. He mentions a peaceful present "...I am now ready"
- 3. He mentions a glorious future "...henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord...shall give me..."

On Sunday, January 8, I had the privilege of sharing these truths with the congregation at Mountain View Community Church in Anchorage. After the service, someone told me the message was an encouragement to her and she shared two additional thoughts I wish I had included:

- 1. God is not God of the past, but God of the present, for He said,"I Am" and not "I Was." Is this why we are encouraged to forget those things that are behind us and press forward?
- 2. While we can expect God to be faithful in the future, He is not a future God or a God for someday down the road; He is the God of today. He did not say, "I Will Be" but said, "I Am." Is this why we are encouraged to not worry about tomorrow? Why worry about an unknown future when we have a known God present with us today?

In 2012, I pray you experience the daily presence of the living great "I Am" and as we partner together, we will witness God doing a great and mighty work in Alaska. Blessings!

Jimmy Stewart Director of Evangelism and Church Development

2012 started with a "Call to Prayer." The leadership of the International Mission Board and North American Mission Board asked churches to focus on praying for our nation, churches and unreached people and people groups in our circle of influence. Have you ever thought that perhaps a person who does not have a relationship with God does not want to be prayed into a relationship with God? Before becoming a Christian, I didn't want to give my life to the Lord. I don't know if someone was praying for me to come to Christ, but I am sure there were people in my life who knew I needed to be in a transformational relationship with God. Many who are without Christ don't really want to change. In trying to understand this, we have to realize there is spiritual blindness to the attractiveness of the Gospel. Recently I read a letter to the editor in USA today where someone asked, "Does anyone want our President, when faced with a significant decision, sitting in the Oval Office thinking 'what would Jesus do?"" His response was "I don't." I think his letter intended to say he wants a president who makes decisions "based on validated information, evidence, logic, reason and the U.S. Constitution..." Is he talking about the Constitution that guarantees religious freedom? There are people who believe God is a myth and a product of man's imagination. Some of us may have had those same thoughts at one point in our lives. So, how do we pray for people? We don't have to pray that God will save them; God already wants to do that. There are three ways we need to pray that others will be transformed; first, pray for an awareness of God. This prayer is for the soul that is rejecting God because they enjoy living a life of sin. I believe the majority of people without salvation are those who enjoy their sinful habits. These unbelievers need to see the undeniable evidence of God's existence. Romans 1 is a good chapter to review. Pray that those without God will not be able to deny His existence. Do you know many people come to know Christ after the birth of their first child? Also, people tend to see God's handiwork following illness and restoration to health. For those who live for themselves, a dramatic intervention of God in times of crisis may cause them to choose to quit ignoring God. I once asked a father how he would like it if his own children decided to ignore him and not to be in his life. He answered he would not like that. When I told him he was doing that same thing to God, he realized he was ignoring his heavenly Father but he still didn't give his life to the Lord. He still needed to be convinced of the benefit of knowing God.

Next month I will share how you can pray for the lost in two other areas in their life. Praying people into awareness should keep you busy. In March, there will be a two-week "awareness" media campaign "Hope: Find it Here." Give me a call and I will give you more information.

Butch Strickland Director of Church Planting and Missions

As 2012 moves forward, there are some steps we can take to make sure every village, ethnic group and neighborhood has an opportunity to hear and respond to the gospel of Christ. The first and most important thing we can do is pray.

- Pray specifically. Jesus said, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest." Let's pray the Lord will send laborers.
- Let's also pray the Holy Spirit will lead the church to set apart those whom He has called.
- Let's pray about our own response to His calling.
- Let's pray that He will prepare the hearts of those who need a witness.
- Let's pray for members of our churches to be aware of the opportunities we have to be a witness.
- Let's pray our lives will be lived in such a manner in front of our children that they will see how important the mission of Christ is to us and that our example might be used in their lives to call them to missions.
- Let's pray God will show us how to be resources for those who go, if we can't go ourselves.

C. H. Spurgeon once said, "Did not our Saviour say that 'men ought always to pray, and not to faint;' and did he not imply, by that form of expression, that if they did not pray, they would be sure to faint?"

When Jesus saw the multitude, it was an encouragement that the harvest was so plenteous. Take a few minutes and log onto YouTube and watch a four and a half minute video called "Get Service." There is a world of opportunity that calls for a double effort on our part. We must work! We must not faint!

"It was a pity when it was so that the laborers should be so few. It is ill with the church, when good work stands still, or goes slowly on, for want of good workmen; when it is so, the laborers that there are have need to be very busy," (Matthew Henry).

Once there was an elderly country pastor who believed his life should be spent in serving people in the name of Jesus. He knew the Bible promised him a rest that would be his when he ceased from his own works (Hebrews 4:9-10). His commitment to do so was seen in a conversation he had with a city preacher who asked him, "What time do you go to work?" "Brother," he replied, "I don't go to work. I'm surrounded with it."

I know how busy you are. I know how hard you work for the kingdom of God. But keep it up. There remains a rest for the people of God. "Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not." (Galatians 6:9)
