Your Cooperative Program giving impacts Alaska churches....

I was born and raised in Idaho and as a boy I heard about the great Salmon River that crossed the state from east to west, entering the Snake River at the lower end of Hell's Canyon. Both rivers are quite famous and for good reason—they both contain huge whitewater rapids that have daunted explorers and river runners for years. They still do. When Lewis and Clark made their historic journey west, they had to detour north when they encountered the Salmon. The local Indians told them to not even try it. For them, it was known as the "River of No Return." Lewis and Clark listened to the warnings and traveled north to find another route

north to find another route to continue their westward journey. It was a good decision.

I remember the first time I saw the Salmon River. Our family had traveled to central Idaho and we crossed the river over one of its headwaters. It was nothing more than a babbling brook. I remember thinking, "this is the River of No Return?" It did not look the least bit threatening to me. As we drove north we crossed other small streams that joined the Salmon, and then we crossed the main river again. It had become a raging torrent of incredible force. I decided the river had been appropriately named after all. It was obvious that when a number of small streams came together, a lot of power could be produced. It is the same with the Cooperative Program (CP).

Even though Idaho, like Alaska, was (and is) a pioneer mission state for Southern Baptists, my church taught, advocated, and supported missions. I was impressed and intrigued when I heard about foreign missionaries and that even our church, small as it was, participated in making it possible for missionaries to serve both at home and abroad. The CP strategy developed by Southern Baptists to fulfill the Great Commission made that possible and it still does today. This strategy provides a venue for the support of missions where all churches can engage effectively in mission action. Even though what each church can give may seem insignificant, when it merges with gifts from all the other churches, the combined amount accomplishes a great deal.

If your church giving to CP seems like a "babbling brook," do not forget what can happen as things move "downstream." Continue to lead your church to help provide that river of support as Southern Baptists proclaim the good news of Jesus Christ around the world.

The Totem Mystery

If you have any details about the totem at the Alaska Baptist Convention office, please call right away. We are trying to find out its origin, meaning and sculptor. The name "Vern Seifert" is written on a card attached to the back of the totem, so information you might have about him would be greatly appreciated. 907.344.9627, 800 883 9627

Pastors' Wives... we get you...

Ministry wives need someone who understands them somebody who "gets it." Ministry life is not a burdened life with which we are dismally saddled. Yet, we operate in a unique culture. One you almost have to live in to really understand.

This past summer under the leadership of Kevin Ezell, the North American Mission Board launched a ministry to pastors' wives. Flourish is an online equipping community created for ministry wives. It has been developed and led by a team of ministry wives who live and understand the unique role of this calling.

Flourish is a word carefully chosen to represent what we hope is a passion in wives' hearts. A passion to desire to "grow well, to thrive." Additionally it means for us to "reach the height of development or influence." The Flourish team wants ministry wives to flourish spiritually, emotionally and physically.

Ministry wives need a place to connect with other ministry wives for support, encouragement and resources. They can now engage with women who walk the same path at www.flourish.me. Kathy Ferguson Litton, national consultant for NAMB's ministry to pastors' wives.

Mike Procter Executive Director

With the advent of e-mail, Facebook, Skype, Oovoo and other electronic communication methods, it appears written letters are on the way out. As reported in the June issue of "Stand Firm", according to theatlanticwire.com, not counting birthday or holiday cards, Americans only receive a personal letter in the mail once every seven weeks. This is a decrease from one personal letter every two weeks in 1987. Despite those who would hate to see Saturday mail delivery stopped, many probably would not mind as most of us receive only bills or unsolicited junk mail via the United States Postal Service (USPS) anyway. I am not bashing the USPS; I have several friends who work for the USPS and they are conscientious, hard-working public servants who are often maligned and criticized. Rodney Kovtynovich (pastor, Schrock Road Community Church in Wasilla), Karen Ellison (pastor's wife, St John Baptist Church in Fairbanks) and my neighbor, Alan, a member of Filipino Bible Church in Anchorage, all work for the USPS.

Let's think a moment about another "letter" we have which we so often overlook or take for granted. This is a letter that spans time and, while it applies to all humanity, it is as personal as if it were written just to me. It is the best-selling letter in the world and many of us have multiple copies of it in our homes. It comes in multiple languages and in several different English versions. For years, it has been criticized and condemned, contemplated and complied to, destroyed and defended, rejected and read. While reading and heeding this letter, through the ages people have found comfort, assurance, confidence, strength, revival, restoration, hope, peace and salvation. While written using human hands, its author is God and its message is timeless and eternal. Every time I read it, I discover something new that applies to my life, something that applies to the current situation I am in. That letter is the Bible. It is a letter that comes in printed, audio, electronic and pictorial versions. It is a letter that I would encourage you to read, memorize, mediate on and follow for the rest of your life.

As I write this, I am thinking back to times I received a personal note, card or letter in the mail and how encouraging it was. Most of the time, my communication with others is by email or telephone and, while these are often sufficient for what needs to be done, it lacks the personal touch of a letter. I think I am going to start writing more notes and cards to those who are in my life, just to remind them I appreciate them. After all, that is what God's letter is -- a letter from God reminding us how much He loves us.

If you should receive a letter from me, I hope you will read it. You have received a letter from God, I pray you are reading it.

Blessings!

Butch Strickland Director of Church Planting and Missions

"And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise: God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect." Hebrews 11:39-40

What an awesome heritage we have! When we look at the context of these verses and see the list of our heroes in the faith, we have to come to the conclusion we have an awesome heritage. These heroes were too good for this world. The world did not deserve them nor know how to value them. It was also said of them that they obtained a good report. They were commended by their faith. Through their faith, they had the honor to be enrolled in this "hall of fame" of Old Testament characters.

But God has provided something better for us! Not even our faithful forefathers were made perfect without us. And surely there was a reason the author of Hebrews, being inspired by the Holy Spirit, would say such a thing. Could it be he was "provoking Christians to a holy jealousy and emulation" that they should not suffer themselves to be outdone in the exercise of faith by those who came so short of them in all the helps and advantages for believing? He tells the Hebrews that God had provided some better things for them (Hebrews 11:40), and therefore they might be assured he expected at least as good from them. (Matthew Henry)

Hebrews 11:33-35 tells us through faith they conquered kingdoms, enforced justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, were made strong out of weakness, became mighty in war and put foreign armies to flight. Women received their dead back by resurrection. And the author expects even more from Christians?!

We are involved in a challenge of faith. As your state Director of Church Planting and Missions, it is my responsibility to help promote our state mission offering named for our own heroine of faith, Valeria Sherard. We have a goal that will challenge us. Alaska Baptists have been so generous and faithful -- will our faith motivate us to conquer kingdoms, enforce justice and obtain promises? Will it motivate us to give generously so the gospel of Jesus can be heard even in the darkest parts of our state?

In 1979, the Northwest Baptist Convention established a goal of $79,000 for their state mission offering. It was to be used to establish the Northwest Center of Golden Gate Seminary in Portland. It was significantly more than they had ever taken up before. That year, Baptists in the Northwest responded by giving over $100,000. I know that we are not the Northwest Baptists of 1979. We are the Alaska Baptists of 2012 and our goal this year is $90,000 – a higher goal than ever before. Let's do it!

"Welcome Backpack" Ministry

Alaska Baptist Family Services are in need of volunteers for our "Welcome Backpack Ministry." Each year, many of the children who come to us arrive with just the clothes on their backs or a trash bag of tattered things. The Welcome Backpack Ministry ensures they are welcomed immediately at the door with a large backpack filled with a Bible, welcome card of encouragement, school supplies so they can be ready to go to school the very next day, their own personal hygiene items and a $50 gift card to WalMart to help with any incidentals they may still require. It makes for a very different welcome than they are used to, and tells them that not only are we happy to have them come and stay with us, but there are people who don't even know them but who are praying for their success and salvation.

The following items are needed for each backpack:

- large backpack
- teen Bible
- welcome card
- small hygiene/toiletry bag with toothbrush, toothpaste, dental floss, comb, deodorant, bar of soap with container
- one 3" binder with divider tabs
- two 1" binders with divider tabs
- one pack of pencils and one pack of pens
- two packs of loose-leaf, college-ruled paper
- two spiral notebooks, college-ruled
- one pair of flip-flops (shower shoes)
- $50 WalMart gift card

The backpacks usually cost about $100-$150 to fill and send so this ministry opportunity lends itself well to a small group mission project. Please contact Lorie Morris for more information, akfamilies@gci.net.

Alan Dial Alaska Native Church Planter Catalyst

This morning as I was filling my coffee "to-go" cup, I noticed a toothbrush and tube of paste in a jar above the sink. Something prodded me to examine it and much to my surprise I saw it was toothpaste for the dog. We have a dog who has commandeered our home and installed himself as the center of everything. His formal name is "Mr. Buttons" but he answers to "Stinky." He is a miniature schnauzer with a glandular defect and amazingly bad halitosis. We have attempted, to no avail, to cure his issues with dental chews; I didn't even know toothpaste was available for pooches...especially poultry flavored. It seems our society is always trying to do the unnatural... fresh breath for dogs? Aren't they supposed to have "doggy breath"? According to the American Pet Products Association, $50.96 BILLION dollars was spent on pet products in 2011; estimates for 2012 are $52.87 BILLION. By contrast, the total spent on world missions to non-evangelized peoples is less than $2 billion each year and foreign missions to other Christian lands is about $13 billion. That brings the total for world missions to $15 billion. Do you notice the discrepancy in the money spent on pet products and that for lost souls throughout the world? Show me your checkbook, and I'll show you your priorities in life (thank you, Larry Burkett). Christ spent three days in the tomb, and we have been building bigger and better, fancier and more fabulous tombs ever since. We can entomb God in a $115 million campus upgrade and expansion including a fountain, thinking, and even believing, the general revelation of modern Christian architecture will point people to Christ and we can visit Him where and when it is safe. We are a group of sick puppies...but that's where all this started.
