ALASKA BAPTIST

November 2014 Vol 69 • No 11

The Alaska Baptist Convention is congregations cooperating together to SEEK Christ, SHARE Christ, STRENGTHEN congregations, START congregations and SEND Christians.

Historically, Wayland Baptist University (WBU) in Alaska has benefitted from Alaska Baptists. It was the Alaska Baptist Convention (ABC), working with the Baptist General Convention of Texas, that invited Wayland to establish a presence in Alaska-and it was in Anchorage Baptist churches that Wayland first operated. Because WBU has a general education core containing religion classes, it must reach out to the Baptist pastor community for professors-and they are indeed some of our very best. It is in the WBU classroom that the university either sinks or swims, and our professors are incredibly gifted in reaching out to students with the important message: "Wayland Really Cares." This is because God really cares, and it is the gospel that so many of our WBU students need to hear and believe.

Although Wayland receives no Cooperative Program (CP) dollars directly from the ABC, there are many indirect ways in which the CP positively affects Wayland. Alaska Baptist Foundation scholarships are available to WBU students; specific churches have supported a WBU function/need; WBU students have taken trips in coordination with local Baptist churches; and WBU students come from local Baptist churches.

The purpose of WBU in Alaska is to spread the gospel. It does this thanks to God's help and as a member of the Alaska Baptist team.

New SBC pastor care line helps pastors in crisis

By Tobin Perry

Excerpted from "News From NAMB", October 7, 2014, www.namb.net

Southern Baptist pastors struggling through personal or professional crisis now have a confidential place to turn, thanks to a new partnership between the North American Mission Board (NAMB) and Focus on the Family.

The care line launched October 1 dedicated exclusively to Southern Baptist pastors, chaplains and missionaries by calling 844.PASTOR1. Calls are answered by Focus on the Family's Family Help Center and remain completely confidential. No information about the calls – including the name of the pastor or the church or the nature of the call – will be provided to NAMB.

NAMB partnered with Focus on the Family in part because the ministry has more than two decades of experience hosting a pastors-in-crisis care line. Focus began the pastor care line ministry in 1992 under the leadership of H.B. London.

"Focus on the Family recognizes the sacrifices and hard work of Southern Baptist pastors," said Jim Daly, president of Focus on the Family. "Many of them give up their own time to be there for their flock—giving up holidays to visit with sick people at the hospital, counseling couples through the tough times in their marriages and helping their congregants pray through milestone decisions. This commitment not only takes time, but it also takes its toll on pastors – physically, emotionally and spiritually. Because they have always been there for others, it's our privilege to be there for them. Our licensed counselors are eager to provide an ear and biblically-based counsel that will help and give hope."

The phone line is available weekdays between 8 a.m. and 10 p.m. Eastern Time. The agent answering the call will listen to and pray for the pastor. If there is a further need, the agent will refer the call to a counseling team. A chaplain or a counselor will return the pastor's call within 24 to 48 hours for an initial consultation. Because of the NAMB-sponsored prayer line, SBC pastors will be a priority in this process. Crisis calls—if a pastor mentions imminent danger of harm to himself or others—will immediately get routed to the counseling team. Often, pastors spend much of their energy serving and supporting others through personal crises, but they often have little left to care for themselves.

Report your ACP statistics to maximize the number of messengers you can send to the annual meeting!

Your Annual Church Profile is due November 151

The Annual Church Profile (ACP) is a survey of all Southern Baptist congregations across the United States and Canada. The statistics, compiled by LifeWay Christian Resources, include the number of church members and baptisms, as well as figures on Sunday School attendance and missions involvement. The ACP assists congregations, as well as association and convention staffs in evaluating current ministries and developing new ones. Please be watching for your ACP survey and complete it by November 15, 2014. If you have questions, please call Debra Long in the Alaska Baptist Convention office (907-344-9627 or 800-883-9627).

On November 2 at 2:00 a.m., we will "fall back" as Daylight Savings Time (DST) ends. By setting our clocks back one hour, we should get an extra hour of daylight however as you know, in Alaska, it is a moot point. DST has no relevance to us in the North.

Relevance – an issue our congregations and ministries often face. How do we stay relevant in our culture? Are we old-fashioned and out-of-touch with reality as many proclaim? Are we still using 19th or 20th century methods to reach a 21st century culture? Are we so tied to our traditions, customs and practices that we are unable to be flexible in the changing cultural landscapes? I am not talking about changing our message – the message of Jesus Christ is timeless and He is the same yesterday, today and forever. What I am talking about is how we "do church."

Several years ago, a congregation was planted in a resort community. The main hotel in the community, in an effort to provide a service to their guests, opened a conference room for the service and even provided coffee and tea for those attending. The only stipulation was the conference room had to be vacated by 10:30 a.m., as the room had to be set up for another function. The planter began a 9:00 a.m. worship service and attendance varied between 25-50, depending upon the number of hotel guests. Locals attending the service numbered between 15-25. There was a good working relationship between the hotel and the congregation. Then a family joined the congregation and began to complain that 9:00 a.m. was not a "real time" for church - 11:00 a.m. was "church time." After battling the issue for months, the service time was changed to 11:00 a.m. and upon doing so, the hotel withdrew the use of the room and the congregation moved into the pastor's home. Attendance began to dwindle and eventually, the congregation was down to only the pastor and his family. The family that was adamant upon an 11:00 a.m. start time even quit attending.

What happened? People were arguing over how to "do" church rather than "being" the church. The time of the service became more important than the "why" of the service. Yet, every week such battles take place in churches across our State.

What do we need to do? We need to identify ways we can minister to our community even if those ways are non-traditional. We have to learn to be flexible in order to reach segments of the population that are not being reached. We do not need to compromise the message; just be willing to change the methods and people will be reached with the message of Jesus Christ.

What do we need to do to relate to people now? What do our congregations need to do to minister to those around us? Let's remember, there is no better time than right now to share the message of Jesus Christ. Don't be driven by customs, traditions or practices but be compelled with the love of Jesus Christ for those around us.

Jimmy Stewart Director of Evangelism and Church Development

These are critical days for believers. There has been one assault after another on the body of Christ as pastors are being asked to turn over sermons, church members are arguing on Facebook about fundamental moral issues like same-sex marriage, and Alaska will vote whether or not to legalize marijuana. Do you see the problem with all of this? When people look to government to settle moral issues, Christians lose. If we could trust our government to uphold objective moral laws, there would not be a problem; but we can't when laws are being passed legalizing murder of an unborn child, or supporting immoral lifestyles contrary to our holy objective lawgiver. Currently, there is a mayor in a large Bible belt metropolitan area demanding all sermons speaking on certain subjects be turned over to the local government – this is purely intimidation from an elected leader who just doesn't like the fact her constituents disagree with her. It was our own president, Lyndon Johnson, who cooked up a law to keep pastors from endorsing specific candidates from the pulpit. Our nation needs prayer and spiritual revival. We need an awakening; anything short and our nation will go through many more difficult days. But, there is joy that comes in the morning and we should be excited about the return of our Savior! We will have trials before His return, but we need to remain strong and find our hope in our Lord. The State Evangelism Conference, January 26-27, will focus on spiritual revival and awakening and I hope you plan to attend. We will host Ronnie Floyd, newly-elected president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Rick Shepherd, Prayer and Spiritual Awakening Team Strategist of the Florida Baptist Convention, both of whom will speak to the topic of revival. The Pastors and Wives Conference in April will have a tremendous prayer emphasis; and in October 2015, we will host state convention prayer coordinators from around the nation for their annual meeting. Many of these prayer leaders will be willing to conduct prayer and spiritual awakening conferences around the state. Claude King, one of the authors of "Experiencing God" and other books, will be our leader at the event in Anchorage. Let's kick off the year in prayer, with an emphasis on taking the message of hope to the lost in our communities.

Butch Strickland Director of Church Planting and Missions

Usually when we go to church, we expect the pastor to lead in a study of Scripture that inspires, challenges and convicts us. We like to leave church, having heard a word from God that will equip us to better follow and serve Jesus. We expect the pastor to read a particular Bible passage, and to hear him explain, illustrate and apply it to real life situations.

In the Gospels, we have the privilege of reading some of the sermons of Jesus, one of which is the greatest source of eternal truth in all history – the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5-7). When Jesus finished, "The people were astonished at his doctrine: For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes." Matthew (7:28-29) There is one occasion when Jesus preached a sermon based on something he had already taught – that sermon coming as a request from the disciples. Matthew 13:36b says, "His disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field." There is a lot more to the sermon, but the first phrases give us an idea of the emphasis Jesus gave to the fact that the gospel was meant for the entire world. "He answered and said unto them. He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom." (Matthew 13:37-38)

My prayer is that, just as we listen to our pastors wanting to be inspired, challenged, and convicted, we listen to Jesus' sermon with the same expectation. Jesus has sown us, the good seed, in the field that is our world.

"People who don't believe in missions have not read the New Testament. Right from the beginning Jesus said the field is the world. The early church took Him at His word and went East, West, North and South." (J. Howard Edington)
