CHALLENGE ALASKA

s we enter a new year with a renewed focus and challenge to reach our state for Jesus Christ, I am reminded of the promise God made to the children of Israel as they were preparing to enter the promised land. God said, "I have given you every place where the sole of your foot treads." (Joshua 1:3)

There are two actions associated with this promise. The first action is intended for us! If we don't go to the places where God is leading (boots on the ground), we will never realize His promise of possessing the land. That makes it a conditional promise dependent upon us and we know that God is faithful in fulfilling His promises.

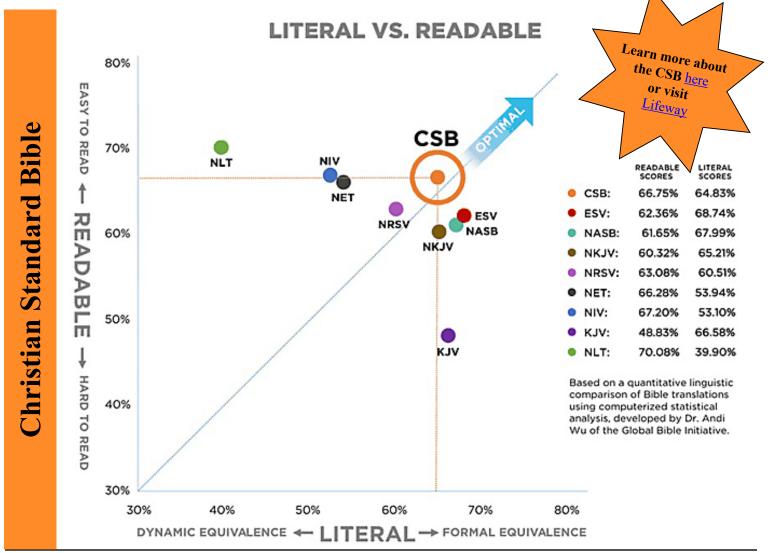

As Alaska Baptists, we have the privilege and responsibility to engage our culture with the transforming power of forgiveness and regeneration. The most effective way of doing that is with one sacred effort, cooperating together as the body of Christ. We have identified 77 villages with no gospel presence. I have been asking the question, "What is it going to take to reach each of these places with the gospel message?"

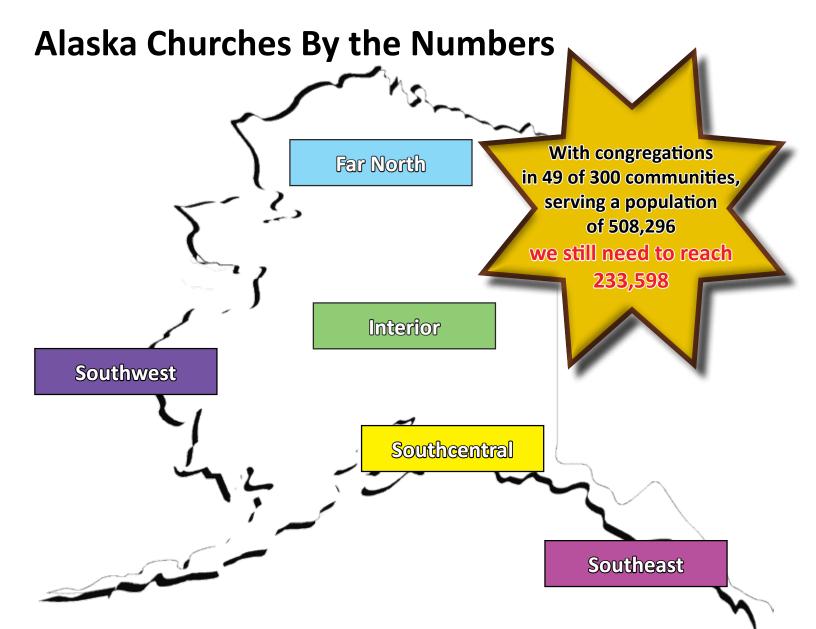

It's dependent upon us! I challenge every church in Alaska to adopt one of these villages and agree to pray and seek God's direction in how to get feet on the ground in this virgin soil. I recognize some of our churches are just beginning, and others are in decline, so this will certainly be a challenge. However, if we commit ourselves to the task, we have no concept what God is able and willing to do through us.

I have asked Jae McKee to compile a list, and coordinate the official adoption, of these 77 villages. My prayer is that by the end of 2018, we can say that every unreached place in our state has an advocate church that has embraced the challenge to do whatever it takes to get the gospel to this place.

Let's be faithful in the task to which we have been called, and claim the victory that was also given to the children of Israel as they inherited the land God had promised them.

Happy New Year 2018!

Catalyst Church, Anchorage

Joint Base Elmendorf-Richardson (JBER) chapel recently honored two local pastors for their contributions in supporting the JBER community. Pastor Tim Allred and associate pastor Luke Connally, of Catalyst Church, have been instrumental in heading up several self-help projects that have not only brought cost savings to JBER, but have significantly contributed to efforts in "care for the caregiver." Most recently, they hosted an appreciation barbecue for the joint chapel team and logged 200 man-hours in building storage shed ramps for four chapel facilities and a sound booth for audio/visual equipment. Previously identified as Honorary Senior Installation Chaplain, Pastor Allred was joined by associate pastor Connally to form JBER's first Honorary Senior Religious Support Team. Future efforts have been planned to see how other local churches might lend contingency support to the JBER Religious Operations Center (JROC) in expanding the capacity of meeting the spiritual needs of JBER's military members and families. January is "Plan your Estate Month" but, what is a Christian estate plan? To answer this question, consider the Four "Rs" of a Christian Estate Plan.

The first "R" is Recognize God as the owner of all. This is a fundamental precept to Christian estate planning and to our Christian faith. The basis of God's authority is His nature, and His role as creator and sustainer of life? As creator, He is the owner and sole possessor of all He creates. Psalms 24:1 and 50:10-12 state definitively that the earth, and all its contents, is the Lord's. Living a life of stewardship as Christians is part of our reasonable worship.

Stewardship must be seen as an act of worship directed toward the Lord to fully understand the application and importance of a Christian estate plan. Before we can experience the true richness and provision of Christ, we must recognize God owns everything.

The Four "Rs" to Christian Estate Planning

Recognize God is owner of all.

God's word directs that earthly wealth should never define an estate plan. Everything in our possession is God's estate. Wealth is not defined by money, but by the Messiah.

Respond to the needs of family.

God reminds us if we do not care and provide for our family, we are worse than a non-believer.

Remember to advance the kingdom.

God instructs his followers to be steadfast, determined and persevere in the Lord's work.

Reflect on the value of the Lord to others.

God expects us to represent Christ, and through our testimony, demonstrate how we live and transition through life.

Is God's Will in your Will?

Managing risk: developing a safety and security plan ccording to a Brotherhood Mutual* survey, 45 percent of churches said they had someone on their staff responsible for "risk management" – but only 20 percent had an actual plan in place. What's more, only 10 percent of churches conducted a church risk audit during the past year. The majority of those focused on safety over security.

According to risk management experts, a comprehensive safety and security plan will focus on five primary areas: safety, security, emergency preparedness, continuity planning and insurance coverage. Together, they help your ministry prepare, react, respond and recover in the face of emergencies, threats or disasters.

- SAFETY. This deals with general and environmental threats to your congregation and organization. Safety concerns include property, fire, weather, illness, accidents, food safety and the like.
- SECURITY. Threats of attack, violent crime and terrorism fall into this category. Though churches can be reluctant to discuss it, this is a rising risk demanding attention. In 2012, deaths from attacks at faith-based organizations increased 36%, according to church violence researcher Carl Chinn.
- EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS. Whether it's a natural disaster or something man-made, a crisis will strike your ministry at some point. It's important to think about the likeliest scenarios and devise a plan of how you'll respond in the face of disaster. These sorts of plans include evacuation plans, interactions with first responders and law enforcement, first aid, communication with media and congregation, etc.

• CONTINUITY PLANNING. How will you keep your ministry running in the wake of a disaster, tragedy or loss? This area includes things like where you'll hold services in the event your building is damaged or destroyed, how you'll communicate during recovery/rebuilding, plans to address changes in giving, how to secure funds, personal property and personnel and related topics.

• INSURANCE COVERAGE. The best risk management approaches deal with both preventing losses and recovering from them. Without the proper coverage and support, you could find yourself without the means to implement some of the plans you've laid out in your risk-management preparations.
